The annual session of the Second District of California Library Association will be held here today. The delegates will be taken in an automobile trip about the city and its environs, the automobiles being donated by the local business houses and merchants for the ride.

Miss Della M. Wilsey, President of the Second District, accompanied by members of her staff will meet the visitors upon their arrivel here at 10 o'clock this morning and escort them to the library where the regular morning session will start.

At noon they will be guests at a very pretty luncheon ararnged by the ladies of the Richmond Club at their new home in Nevin avenue. Mrs. F. C. Schram and Mrs. H. A. Stivers are to be in charge of the luncheon.

Following this the tour of the industrial plants will be made. After the trip about the city has been completed the members of the association will return to the library where the regular afternoon session will be held. Tea will be enjoyed at the library after the business of the afternoon has been dispensed.

Between thirty five and fifty delegates will attend he meeting and on Sunday the visitors, accompanied by Miss Milsey and members of her staff will visit the exposition, where a special guide will show them the chief points of interest of the big show. A dainty luncheon in the Califronia building will be served in the evening, which wil close the two day's session.

MORE LITIGATION PROMISED BEFORE CITY HALL LOCATES

"Certainly I am going to fight fight the matter to a finish." the attempt to move the city hall from its present location. Myself and my associates will stay with the fight to the last. We have pledged ourselves to protect the rights of property in our town and we are going to remain true to that pledge."

This was the statment of George S. Wall, manager of the Harbor Realty company when he was asked by a Daily News representative whether the report printed in yesterday's daily News was correct.

"Yes, it is true" said Wall, over the long distance telephone. "I think that we have a pretty good show to keep the city hall where it stands at present. At any rate we are willing to fight to keep it there. I think that the vote decided that the people favor the present location. Little more than half of the registered voters cast their ballots, indicating that theother half desires to leave the building where it is "Upon what grounds do you intend to fight the case?" was asked.

"That I cannot say," answered Wall. "I do not plan to give my plans into the hands of my rivals, but you can rest assured that I will fight the matter to a finish."

This anouncement by Wall indicates that further litigation will result before the city hall finally finds a resting place. John Nicholl was in Richmond yesterday and when asked what he thought of the Wall move, he answered "They have no grounds to fight the moving of the hall. The people have decided to move the city hall, so why have any further litigation." Nicholl further intimated that he was prepared for a legal battle and did not express any great surprise when told of the matter.

Local politicians are wondering upon what grounds Wall and his associates intend to bring their fight. The matter will be taken in all probability to the highest courts. Representatves of Burg Bros., declare that Wall cannot do anything towards preventing the moving of the structure.

It is fairly sure that a damage suit will be brought against the city by Wall interests, despite statemente and quitations that they will not.

"In the meantime, the attorneys of the rival factions are looking up court decisions and preparing for another legal storm.

CHILD'S CUSTODY WILL BE DECIDED BY HIGHER COURT: QUEER TANGLE

Upon motion of assistant district attorney W. S. Ormsby, the charge of child stealing placed against Mrs. Selan Mainwaring, wife of William Mainwaring, by F. G. Schach, her divorced husband, was yesterday dismissed from the police court by Police Judge William Lindsey. The case will come up in the Superior court, Attorney W. S. Robenson, announcing that Schach would carry the matter to the higher court.

In moving to dismiss the charge, Ormsby stated that the case was purely one for the Superior court and that it was only wasting time to keep it in the police court.

Schach was not present at the court. "I was under the impression that the case would not come up until Saturday morning at 10 o'clock having read a newspaper acount which stated that the case would be called at that time."

Attorney Wilbur S. Pierce, represented the defendant. And it was upon his arguments that the case was dismissed.

When the case appears in the Superior court some choice testimony will be presented it is expected. Schach secured his divorce from Mrs. Mainwaring, who afterwards, married Mainwaring on the grounds of a violation of marriage vows. He named but one correspondent. In the case which will be aired in the present controversy is the Superior court, Schach, claims that he had other evidence of a similar nature to present.

"Mrs. Mainwaring does not really want the child," said Schach, last night. "It is merely a case of spite work. If Mrs. Mainwaring did really care for our child why did she not go to the Craven hospital last June when the child underwent an operation for adenoids and tonsilitus. The news appeared in all of the newspapers, so she certainly must have known the child was ill."

The girl is Mildred Schach. She is thirteen years of age. Schach brands the story of Mrs. Mainwaring that the girl asked to be taken into the Mainwaring home as false. "This is not true and we will prove it is not true," Schach declared last night.

Schach was married to Mrs. Mainwaring about twenty years ago. Four children, three sons and the daughter, the eldest of whome is ninteen years were born to the couple. Schach in June of 1913 married his present wife, from whom he recently was seperated. The second Mrs. Schach had charge of the child, Schach giving her a certain sum of money each month for the child's support. Requested by the woman, until Schach had made arrangements to place her in the care of his sister in the east.

Schach resides at 556 Sixth street. He is a member of the Pipefitters Union of this city, and has resided in Richmond for the past fourteen years.

CHILDREN'S LAWS OF 1915.

Forty-five State and territorial legislatures and the Congress of the United States in 1915 passed laws affecting children, according to the Children's Bureau which has just completed its survey of such legislation during the current year. Special reference is made to the impressive bulk of children's laws and to the number of commissions appointed to study and prepare for future legislation.

Arkansas, Florida, and Utah have commissions to report on the needs of the feeble-minded; New Jersey, a commission to prepare a State program for the reorganization of public care of defectives, dependants, and delinquents; Missouri and New Hampshire, commissions on the needs of the blind; Deleware, a commission on vocational education; Idaho, a commission to report on the need for a minimum wage law; Florida and Indiana, commissions on the need for mothers' pensions; and California, a commission to study social insurance.

The Bureau says that the appointment of these commissions indicates a growing realization that benevolent intent can not safely be accepted as a substitute for the careful formulation of statutes for social betterment. The subjects to which study is directed are all of immediate concern to children, and the States are thus fairly committed to a policy of selecting and harmonizing provisions which leads plainly toward the collection and modifying of laws relating to children.

As showing the great amount of children's legislation the Bureau says that twenty-seven States have amended their provisions for dependent children; eighteen have improved their treatment of juvenile delinquents; sixteen have strengthened their child labor laws; fourteen have concerned themselves with tthe needs of mentally defective or feeble-minded three States and the District of Columbia were added to those specifically permitting the use of public school buildings as social centers and nine amended or for the first time passed a model vital statistics law in which the Children's Bureau is interested bacause it considers complete birth registration of fundamental importance to child welfare work.

Afew of the forty-five States made notable advances, Alabama, for example, whose legislature meets only one in four years, enacted a new child law, a compulsory school attendance law, an excellent desertion and non-support law and a State-wide juvenile court law. Florida remodelled its treatment of juvenile delinquents, recognized the principle of compulsory school attendance, passed the model vital statistics law, and appointed two of the State commissioners already referred to. Kansas established an industrial commission to regulate hours, wages and conditions of work for women and minors and a division of child hygiene in the State board of health; it also enacted a playground alaw and a mothers' pension law. New Jersey and Wyoming passed comprehensive acts relating to the care of dependent children and Pennsylvania, carefuly drafted laws relating to child labor and vocational education.

The Children's Bureau has included in its review the outlying territories of the United States and reports that Alaska has forbidden the employment of boys under 16 underground in mines; Hawaii has passed a surfew law for girls under 16 in Honolulu; the Philippines have provided for dental clinics in the schools and created a public welfare board to establish and maintain social centers; and Porto Rico has passed a modern juvenile court law.

MAZDA

True Lighting Economy

Demands Good Electric Lamps

ELECTRIC LIGHTING BILLS are always higher in the Fall and Winter than during the Spring and Summer months.

EVERYONE KNOWS WHY—they realize that the hours of darkness increase greatly as winter approaches—understand how the short, cloudy days make a great deal of artifical lighting necessary in home, store and factory.

The greatest help toward keeping lighting bills where they ought to be consists of using Mazda lamps.

Most people interested in getting the best illumination at smallest expense already use Mazda lamps.

TRY THEM OUT IF YOU HAVE NOT ALREADY DONE SO.

AT THE RICHMOND

"Twas Ever Thus", with the charming Elsie Janis as the star, shows for the last time today at the Richmond theater. No matter what airs and what graces men may have taken on since the world began, they make love just the same today. This play shows the unusual love affair of prehistoric pair who dispose of a pursuing pirate father by means of a club. Next comes an appealing story of the Civil war when a Boston beauty and a young southern surgeon outwit the antipathy of the latter's father to the girl's Northern accent and by a clever ruse actually line him up as the girl's champion. Finally in the most dramatic episode love again prevails in a stirring three-cornered affair between a wealthy publisher his gay young clubman son a young New York writer who enters the publisher's home for experience as a domestic.

A five reel Pathe comedy "The Galloper" will also be shown on the program. Tomorrow will be devoted to a first class vaudeville show.

Ladies and gentlemen, right this way for the big show.

Richmond vs.; the Salt Lake Coast League team. Look 'em over. See the mighty Ping Bodie, pride of the Cow Hollow and th San Francisco club's heaviest sticker. See Eddie Burns, the Athletic clubs great catcher in action. Its the last time this season, friends and its costing the usual fare, one quarter of a buck, five jits, or 25 cents.

Hard to think of getting such a big gang of stars rolled into one lot and then have the privilage of looking 'em over at 25 cents a head But its the truth, ladies and gentlemen. Mr. William Luce, the manager of the Richmond Elks, the 1915 semi-pro champions has made this possible and believe us, friends when we say this is going to be "some game".

Remember its the last game of the season. We've been shouting for a game with the Coast League leaders and now we've got it. The largest crowd of the season should be on the job. Just who will open for the Elks is not yet certain. If the day be cold, Burns will start, but if old Sol be on the job, then Mr. Gordon will officiate.

The Coasters will start Jack Killilay. Now here's a little secret. We don't think Killilay will stand the nine rounds if he does go in. The Elks are due for one of their batting rallies.

The club is playing together like a piece of well oiled machanism. So it looks like victory. Now friends just look at that gang of names at the beginning of these few remarks. The game starts at 2:15 o'clock.

VAUDEVILLE FEATURES BILL AT THE REGENT

With an excellent vaudeville and motion picture bill, the Regent Theater, formerly the Lyric, at Eleventh street and Macdonald avenue will open this evening. Manager Dobyns yesterday announced that he had senured Jack Fleming, a comedian of considerable fame and the team of Cecil Engel and Hazel Marshall. The latter will provide a singing, dancing and harmony act which is a winner.

Charlie Chapman, the funny man, will appear in "The Woman." The famous three reel Esannay "Temper" will be shown. The bill is certainly an excellent one and a large crowd is expected. The theater has been renovated and new ventilating system has been installed. An admission of ten cents for children and 15 cents for adults will be charged.

MILITARY BALL WILL BE HELD TONIGHT BY LODGE

The big military ball of the Modern Woodmen of America will be held tonight at East Shore park. Moose Defenders and Knights of Pythias will appear in full dress uniform at the affair. Indications point to the record crowd of the season. Neither time nor expense has been spared to make the affair one long to be remembered.

FIRE HALL DEDICATED; MAYOR GARRRARD SPEAKER

Mayor E. J. Garrard, and Fire Chief Roy Lemoin attended the dedication of the new fire hall at Albany last night. Mayor Daniels acted as master of ceremonies. He lauded Mayor Garrard in introducing him to the crowd which had assembled. Garrard gave a short speech. Following the dedication the band of Albany rendered several selections. A social time was enjoyed later in the evening.

REV. WILSON RESIGNS AS PASTOR OF LOCAL CHURCH

Rev. C. A. Wilson, who has been pastor of the Calvary Baptist church for more than a year has resigned his local pastorat and will take up his new duties at Melrose in East Oakland where he will be in charge of the Melrose Baptist church. The announcement will be made public by Mr. Wilson at the meeting of the church on next Sunday morning. The members of the congregation were informed sometime ago that Mr. Wilson was to leave them and his going has been a matter of much regret.

During his residence here, the pastor has been well liked and has worked hard in building up the new church. He goes to a bigger field with every wish for his success.
